CHAPTER V
CONCLUSIONS AND SUGGESTIONS

In this chapter, some important points are outlined. First, the conclusion contains a summary of the research findings related to the formulation of the problems and the objectives of the research. Second, the implication confers what can be implied from the conclusion. The last is suggestions which are meant to other researcher who will conduct similar research.

5.1. Conclusion
Based on the research findings and discussions related to the address terms performed by the four characters in To Kill a Mockingbird Novel, two main conclusions can be drawn. The first conclusion is concerned with the types of address terms performed by the four characters. The last is the social factors performed by the four characters of the novel.

1. There are eight types of address terms in To Kill a Mockingbird Novel. Those are first name (FN), title plus last name (TLN), title (T), last name (LN), special nickname (SN), pet name (PN), kinship term (KT), and Mockery. All of those types of address terms are found in the novel.

2. In this research, the social factors are divided into seven. They are particular occasion (PO), rank of other/social status (RO), age (A), family relationship (FR), occupational hierarchy (OH), transactional status (TS), and degree of intimacy (DI). All those social factors are found in the novel.

5.2. Suggestions
From the analysis of the research above, some suggestions can be given to the following:

1. To English Students
It is important to give advance study or more detail information on the use of address terms in certain community, especially English community. It is because English language is use in all over of the globes and becomes international language so the understanding of English language is needed. The problem will arise if people who do not belong to certain community try to understand the language used by the community, especially in the application of address terms.
In fact, every language that exists in different society or community has its own characteristic in using address terms.

2. To Other Researcher
The finding on the use of address terms in this research, especially in the types and social factors of address term are influenced by context of communication. For example, where the conversation takes place or to whom a speaker talks to. Place or circumstance can greatly influence the use of certain types of address term. A formal occasion usually also requires formal language during conversation. Address terms that usually used in such context is TLN and T.
