Dear Syahmardi Yacob, and Dr Sulistiyo:

I am writing with regard to your article "The Importance of E-commerce Adoption and Entrepreneurship Orientation for Sustainable Micro, Small, and Medium Enterprises In Indonesia", which you submitted to Development Studies Research.

I find the article has significantly improved and its academic content grants acceptance. However, I need a version where the language has been improved to provide final acceptance for publication. The paper is clear, but the academic English can be improved throughout. This is very important for us to be able to publish it.

In addition, the abstract: i) needs to be 1 single piece (no subsections); ii) the second part needs to be rephrased (e.g. avoid the term 'thrilled', the expression 'affect the government' should be changed, etc.).

When you revise your article, please highlight the changes you make in the article by using the track changes mode in MS Word or by using bold or coloured text.

To start the revision, please click on the link below:

 PLEASE NOTE: This is a two-step process. After clicking on the link, you will be directed to a webpage to confirm.

This will direct you to the first page of your revised article. Please enter your responses to the comments made by the reviewer(s) in the space provided. You can use this space to document any changes you made to the original article. Please be as specific as possible in your response to the reviewer(s).

This link will remain active until you have submitted your revised article. If you begin a revision and intend to finish it at a later time, please note that your draft will appear in the "Revised Articles in Draft" queue in your Author Centre.

IMPORTANT: Your original files are available to you when you upload your revised article. Please delete any redundant files before completing the submission.

Because we are trying to facilitate timely publication of articles submitted to Development Studies Research, your revised article should be uploaded by 22-May-2021. If it is not possible for you to submit your revision by this date, we may have to consider your paper as a new submission.

Once again, thank you for submitting your article to Development Studies Research and I look forward to receiving your revision.

Editor(s)' Comments to Author:

1) You use a causality terminology (e.g. impact), but I am not sure that your design enables you to identify causation. What you find seem to me associations, relationships, but your methods and design do not enable us to understand whether there is indeed genuine causality. There fore, you need to either explain how you identify causality or change your terminology throughout the paper.

2) The paper is quite far from the level of writing needed for publication. This regards

2.1) grammar: too many errors.

2.2) fluency of the text: just to give an example, the sentence "In this study, quantitative inquiry was utilized by actualizing an exploratory design for this investigation to allow testing of the relationship and building up cause and impacts on the investigation addressed" is extremely clumsy and uses complex terms un-necessarily. Please write the paper using simple clear terms and sentences.

2.3) errors and inconsistency in the use of references.

2.4) unexplained acronyms.

Subject: Re: Re: RDSR-2020-0085.R3 - changes required to your submission

Dear Maricar Santiago,

Thank you for giving us the opportunity to resubmit our manuscript, however I could not access the link you shared with me regarding the guide to continue the submission. I also could not find any menus at the author centre to resubmit the anonymous version of the manuscript. Here I attached the manuscript as I hope you can help me solve the problem. Many thanks

Very best wishes,
