Dear Author,

Your manuscript is registered with number IJCS-R-1164/03.07.2020.

In its current form, the paper is accepted for evaluation. because

Plagiarism is 15%, so it meets the conditions, it must be less than 20%. I'm attaching the plagiarism done.

I am also attaching the Copyright form that must be completed and signed.

Keep in touch! After receiving the paper modeled according to the Copyright, a detailed analysis will follow.

Please complete and sign the copyright file, if you acknowledge that the article is yours, is original and has not been published so far.

For a start, there is another very serious observation, which must be urgently resolved. The references are not written according to the IJCS rules, for each paper in the journals, after the full name of the journal written in bold, the volume must also be in bold and if it is the case no. Issue in parentheses. The cited works taken from the Web of Science or Scopus, otherwise are not visible.

I corrected the first two references, the first is a book, and the second a scientific paper (see the differences between what you wrote and what you should have). Initially for such mistakes, we say REJECT. We give you another chance, but please pay more attention, the reference operator is very important and must be written correctly.

Dear Editor in Chief of the International Journal of Conservation Science,

We are pleased to submit a new manuscript entitled “Benefits of Marine Conservation Program: An Impact Evaluation Approach” for consideration as a research article. This paper evaluates the impact of the benefits of the marine conservation program (Coral Reef Rehabilitation and Management Program - COREMAP) by focusing on the socio-economic aspect using propensity score matching (PSM). The marine conservation program outcomes were compared between people in COREMAP areas with control areas and COREMAP beneficiaries with non-beneficiaries. Findings from this paper provides a better policy option to promote marine conservation activities in Indonesia.

Each of the authors confirms that this manuscript has not been previously published and is not currently under consideration by any other journal. The submission for publication has been approved by all the authors and the institution where the research was carried out. Additionally, to the best of our knowledge, the named authors have no conflict of interest, financial or otherwise.

We welcome any suggestions to improve this work. Please address all correspondence concerning this manuscript to me on behalf of the authors at sopianhidayat99@yahoo.co.id.

Thank you for your kind attention.
