TREATMENT II

Fill in the blanks with words

| Let's start.   |
|--|
| Today I would like to tell you a bit about my (1) of having to undergo surgery for       |
| the first time. (2) you probably didn't notice my (3) last week, I was in the            |
| hospital for a few days after having gallbladder surgery. I always had (4) eating some   |
| foods, and I didn't know why. (5), after many tests, the doctor told me he had good news |
| and bad news. I (6) to know good news first. The good news was that he had found the     |
| (7) of my digestive (8) I had gallstones in my gallbladder. And the bad news was         |
| that I had to have my gallbladder removed (9) But I was looking (10) to the              |
| surgery. And since I wanted to (11) getting overly nervous before the (12), I            |
| decided to (13) on work I doubled my (14) before the                                     |

| surgery so that you wouldn't miss any of my (15) episodes. And on the day of the surgical     |
|---|
| procedure, I (16) a suitcase with all the things I (17) I                                     |
| needed while in the hospital. It is always (18) to be prepared. But in the end, I didn't need |
| much of it because I (19) most of the time sleeping.  |
| Now I'm (20) to be back home.   |
| The (21) was a success, and I feel great, I was even able to start (22) on a new              |
| episode. But (23) about me, let's talk about the (24) types of doctors in English.            |
| Let's start with the (25) practitioner.   |
| What's a general practitioner?  |
| If you have a (26) problem, you (27) go to  |
| a general practitioner. For (28), if you have   |
| a cold or a stomach ache, you see a general practitioner.                                     |
| We also call this (29) of physician a family doctor.  |
| What if you have a (30) toothache? Do you   |
| go to your family doctor? Of course not. In that  |
| case, you should make an (31) with a  |
| reputable dentist as soon as (32)   |
| I know many of you don't like going to the  |
| dentist but I have a (33) every six months, and   |
| that helps to prevent major (34)  |
| So a dentist is a doctor who (35) problems  |
| (36) to teeth and gums.   |

| Well, what if you have a problem with your        |  |  |  |  |
|---|--|--|--|--|
| (37)? What do you do? If you have a problem       |  |  |  |  |
| with your eyesight, an eye (38), or               |  |  |  |  |
| anything (39) to your eyes, you should see        |  |  |  |  |
| an optometrist. An optometrist is an (40) doctor. |  |  |  |  |

First Exercise: in this exercise you will be asked to make a script from the podcast that you are listening to, then after you finish making the script you will be given the original script of the podcast and then you will compare the script that you made with the original script, this exercise aims to find out which parts you made mistakes and which parts you didn't know

American English Podcast Transcript "111.2 Is it IN Hawaii or ON Hawaii? (Prepositions with Locations)".

After posting this week's episode on Instagram, one listener, Paula wrote: Should we say in Hawaii or on Hawaii, since it's an island, but then it's also a state?

Oh, man, Paula, what a wonderful question, and I'm sure many of you were thinking the exact same thing.

When we say I'm in Hawaii, it means that I'm in the state called Hawaii. In most circumstances, when we're talking about general location – so city, state, country or continent even – we will use "in".

Listen closely:

- That woman lives in Europe, in Ireland. It does not matter that Ireland is an island. She's in Ireland.
- He loves traveling in the Bahamas, but he also loves living in Bermuda. We see here, the Bahamas, it's a bunch of islands and we use "in". In the Bahamas.
- Bermuda is also an island, but I say in Bermuda.
- We were in the Maldives.

 What about larger places? In in in. We were in Australia for a week, then in Greenland and then in Japan. Right.

So this sounds too easy, right? Country, state, city, commonwealth, were always using "in".

And once again, if you're in Hawaii, you're in the state of Hawaii.

But wait, wait, wait, wait. In the audio, didn't I hear on Hawaii? Yes, you did. Remember, Hawaii is not only a state, it's the name of one specific island in the island chain.

When you say you're on Hawaii, it means you're on the island named Hawaii, on the Big Island. You're not on Oahu. You're not on Maui. You're on Hawaii, the biggest of all of the Hawaiian islands.

So yes, you can use "on" plus "island name" when you're specifying one – usually smaller – island of an island chain or archipelago. Usually, this is for clarification.

Listen to this:

Hey, where did you spend your last vacation?

We were in Hawaii.

Oh, cool, which island were you on?

Oh, we were on Oahu. Here you could also say in Oahu. That's fine, too. Although "on Oahu," sounds like a clarification.

Let's listen to another one.

Where did you do your last internship?

Oh, I was on the Balearic Islands.

Were you in Ibiza?

Oh no, we were on Mallorca. We could also say in Mallorca.

Here's the one thing you need to know.: To use the correct preposition almost one hundred percent of the time, just use "on" when you hear the word island in the statement.

Listen closely:

- He lives on Long Island.
- Not many people live on Roosevelt Island.
- We stayed in New York City, on Manhattan Island.
- We rented a house on the Channel Islands.
- They stayed on the Farallon Islands.
- We were on the Canary Islands.
- We were on the Hawaiian Islands.

Technically, when islands is plural, you can still use in, but don't worry about that. If you say "on" when there's "island" in the sentence, you'll do just fine.

All right, it can't get easier than this, right? Always use "in" unless you say the word island.

All right, you guys, I normally don't say this, but I would avoid researching this topic online. It can be very confusing. I found that the majority of people trying to find the answer to this question are non-native speakers, and many of the explanations don't make sense. The majority of sentences, example sentences, are also incorrect. So it can get pretty convoluted.

My goal is to help you speak correctly almost 100 percent of the time. So if you follow the rules I mentioned here, you'll do just fine.

Listen to this audio one more time to solidify this info, and if you have access to Season 3, or want to purchase it at americanenglishpodcast.com then you will also have a quiz to test yourself on this. So check that out and have a good one, guys!

Second exercise:

Speak English Now Podcast (#245 The court of law in the USA part #2)
