

ABSTRACT

The aim of this research is to find out the role of Pundi Sumatra in empowerment as well as the supporting and inhibiting factors in this empowerment of the Suku Anak Dalam (SAD) in Dwi Karya Bhakti Village, Pelepat District, Bungo Regency. This research uses sociological juridical research with a qualitative approach, namely a research process that presents descriptive data in the form of writing or expressions obtained directly from the field or research area. Based on the results of research in its implementation in the field of SAD empowerment, there are still several indicators that have not been fully met. The author proves this with several indicators, namely: Enabling, namely creating an atmosphere that allows community potential to develop. Empowering, namely strengthening the potential of society through concrete steps involving the provision of various inputs and opening up various opportunities that will make society more empowered. Protecting, namely protecting and defending the interests of the weak.
