

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSSION AND SUGGESTION

5.1. Conclusion

Based on the results of the interviews that have been conducted, it can be concluded that Students' Perception on The Use of Zoom Meeting in Online Learning for students of the English Education Department in the 2021 academic year is that most of the students gave positive perception toward Zoom Meeting in online teaching and learning process, because easy to access and also has various interesting features so that learning can effectively and efficiently. While some students had a negative perception of the media used by English teachers in the teaching and learning process, as they felt it was more passive, this was mainly due to the monotonous nature of the learning activities and the students' limited understanding of the materials presented. Although there are obstacles in its implementation, it does not reduce the enthusiasm of students to participate in learning. Thus, online learning media, utilising video conference software such as Zoom meetings, can be effectively used by English language education students at Jambi University.

5.2.Suggestion

Based on the research results, some suggestions that can be given are as follows:

For lecturers, online learning needs to pay attention to students' perceptions of online learning. If it is known, it will be easier for lecturers to determine the materials and teaching methods used so that online learning activities can run better and students follow them happily without any element of coercion.

For students who experience difficulties in the online learning process, they should increase their own knowledge so that the learning process can be achieved.
